Saturday, March 14, 2015 at 7:00 PM Hunter Walker

Mountain Dulcimer Specialist from Beckley, West Virginia

Hunter Walker is a 21 year old Spanish major at Concord University. He has won the Mid-Eastern Regional Dulcimer Championship and West Virginia State Championship as well as being in a band that won the neo-trad championship in 2014 at the Appalachian String Band Festival. He says, "My specialty is music that you would have heard from the settlers. It's not bluegrass; it's older than bluegrass. It's mountain music. You can hear anything in my set from Old Time fiddle tunes to Ragtime to Dixieland piano to classical Beethoven pieces. I don't know what I'm going to pull out of my hat until I get on stage."

Sunday, April 28, 2015 at 2:30 PM Jan Hammond & Paul Conrad

Mountain Dulcimer Specialists from Wadsworth & Millersburg

Jan Hammond is an accomplished composer, lyricist, and vocalist with four solo CDs and one duet CD with guitar master Tom Conner. Jan is a two-time Kentucky State Mountain Dulcimer Champion, the only four-time winner of the Mid-Eastern Regional Dulcimer Championships, and a Top Five Finalist and a 3rd Place winner at the National Mountain Dulcimer Championships. She is a Certified Music Practitioner. Jan teaches, leads workshops, and performs at a variety of venues including festivals, coffee houses, healthcare facilities, house concerts, church services, and various events throughout the country. Jan has presented at the Buckeye Dulcimer Festival, Dulci-More, Southeast Ohio Dulcimer Festival, Phoenix Folk Festival, Kent State Folk Festival, Kentucky Music Winter Weekend, and Swannanoa Gathering. She was the headliner at the 2012 Coshocton Dulcimer Days Festival. Her website is www.janhammond.net

Paul Conrad has been building and playing dulcimers for nearly a decade. He enjoys using local woods and combining them in interesting ways and patterns. As a player, he particularly enjoys playing in duets and small ensembles. In addition to his workshops, Paul takes his instruments to many folk festivals as a vendor, and he often acts as a "dulcimer doctor" at those festivals. His website is www.timbrehilldulcimers.com.

Together they have played Mountain Rose Concerts and other places.
